VIRGO

A certificate dahlia and tested by outstanding growers in five different sections of the states. All have proved it to be a variety that has great vigor and able to withstand the elements. Other qualifications of beauty, form, stem and foliage makes this dahlia an investment worthy of any grower.

Stems two foot, straight, wiry. No weakness whatsoever. Seven to nine inches in diameter, average four inches deep. A most beautiful semi-cactus type. Chamois to cream yellow with amber shadings at the base of center petals. Foliage a fuzzy medium green color, very luxuriant, developing a beautiful symmetrical bush that insects positively do not molest.

Virgo received high acclaim where ever grown and is recommended to growers who want a satisfactory dahlia. It propagates well and roots fast. No hesitation about this variety, its vigor brings results.

Strong division $10.00

VOLCANO

This great dahlia was to be withheld till 1938 but the demand was so urgent that it was released. By testimony of outstanding growers it was one of the finest dahlia in the Ohio Valley Trial Grounds where it scored 89 points, and a sensation at the Woodridge show, at Washington, D.C., where after being shipped 600 miles it won high acclaim in the seedling competition; also won the largest bloom class. This elite after being cut, kept in good condition for four days. Its size, color and keeping qualities, along with its great vigor, makes this dahlia one of the best. Two feet, straight and strong stems, holding the bloom either facing or a forty-five degree angle. Stems are not clubby. Ten to twelve inches in diameter, six to eight inches deep. Formal to informal type. Orange flame color, does not fade in sun or rain. Very healthy grower. Four to four one-half feet tall. Four to six laterals. Early to medium bloomer. Petals are long and broad and as bloom grows they turn back completely covering the back of the flower. A variety that can take the elements without question. Dark green foliage, healthy spreading bush. Insects give this plant the go-by. A sensational dahlia of huge dimensions. One of the few dahlias of this color and keeping qualities. The shows will have this mammoth for years to come.
